

A Sample Style Sheet for University of Chicago/Turabian/American Anthropological Association
Reference List

Karin Durán

Italicize titles of books and periodicals. Use quotation marks for the title of parts of works. In a “reference list”, dates of publication may follow the author information. Double space within each citation and between entries.

Books

Soto, Shirlene. Emergence of the Modern Mexican Woman: Her Participation in Revolution and Struggle for Equality, 1910-1940. Denver: Arden Press, 2000.

Edited Books

Noriega, Chon A. and Ana M. Lopez, eds. The Ethnic Eye: Latino Media Arts. Minneapolis, Minn.: University of Minnesota Press, 1996.

Journals

Smedley, Brian D., Hector F. Meyers, and Shelly P. Harrell. “Minority-status Stresses and the College Adjustment of Ethnic Minority Freshman.” Journal of Higher Education 64, no. 4 (July-August 1993): 434-54.

Magazines

Croal, N’Gai. “Want a Job? Get Online.” Newsweek. June 6, 1997, 81-82.

Newspapers (print or microform copies)

May, Tim. “Valley Focus: Lake View Terrace; Residents Press to Close Landfill.” Los Angeles Times. February 8, 1995, Valley ed.: M2.

Interviews

Cesar Chavez, interviewed by Angel Peres, July 22, 1968.

Electronic Full-Text Sources

Hint: Follow the format above that best matches your online source before providing online citation information. Look for and include as many source identification elements as possible such as author, title, date of publication/creation, internet address/access information. Date of access is not required except for time-sensitive material. Consult the University of Chicago web site for further information:

<http://press-www.uchicago.edu/Misc/Chicago/cmosfaq.html>

Surface/Free Internet site – Internet address required in citation

“Kahloism.” The World of Frida Kahlo. 1996. <http://www.cascade.net/kahlo.html> (accessed October 1, 2006).

Deep/Invisible Internet Periodical Article from Library databases

– Internet address not required

Miller, Robert. “Mexico’s Role in U.S. Education-A Well-Kept Secret.” Phi Delta Kappan. 76, no. 6 February 6, 1995, 470-73. Expanded Academic ASAP (InfoTrac) (accessed October 1, 2006).

Harris, Scott. “Besmirching a Victory Too Hastily.” Los Angeles Times. June 21, 1998, Metro ed.: B1. Lexis-Nexis: News (accessed October 1, 2006).