Information Resources

+ Contents:

- topical refinement
- research vocabulary
- locate resources in OneSearch
- limit, expand and sort search results
- databases
- evaluate resources
- create and manage citations

- Appendices A-D

+ Refine your topic

- Make broad topics more focused and manageable
- A focused topic informs what (and how) resources are used
 - Very recent topics → newspapers, magazines, Websites
 - Established topics → books, journals, films

■ Example: Refine topic and target resources

1. Broad Topic = Media
2. Narrower Topic = Violence in the media
3. Focused Topic = Media violence and children

Build your research vocabulary

Define your topic by constructing your research (thesis) question or statement:

- What are the effects of media violence on children? OR
- Media violence affects (or does not affect) children.

Note: Through research, seek to prove or disprove the research statement, OR supply an answer to the research question.

Build a vocabulary of similar or related search terms from the most descriptive words in your research question or statement:

- media: television, film, video games, comics, music
- violence: brutality, bloodshed
- children: kids, teens, adolescents

These are your search terms you will use to locate information resources.
Consult a thesaurus to add synonyms to your terms, if necessary.

Limiting and expanding searches

Text Methods

- Boolean Operators

 women OR Females	OR expands your search results to include those that have EITHER of two similar terms. Use OR to increase you number of results.
 women AND media	AND reduces the number of results by requiring that two terms appear together in a resource in order to be listed within the results. Use AND to filter out irrelevant results.
 image NOT self	NOT filters out results for terms that are commonly associated. Use NOT with caution as you may unwittingly remove results you may otherwise want.

TIP: Recommended databases for this class: Gale Virtual Reference, Black Studies Center; Literature Resource Center, Opposing Viewpoints, General One File; Proquest Databases, Academic Search Elite; EBSCOhost Research

+ Evaluating Resources

Essential questions to ask regarding the reliability of a resource:

- Who created the resource?
- What is the experience or qualifications of the author?
- Is the resource based on fact or opinion? Are sources cited?
- Is the resource supported by an organization with a known agenda?
- Has the resource been examined prior to publication, such as a book review, an editor or peer-review (panel of experts)?

Additional info Note: To see if a journal is peer-reviewed, see Ulrichs Web Global Serials Directory

+ Citing Sources

- Use source citations to:
 - avoid plagiarism
 - demonstrate a strong understanding of the topic
 - strategically support your argument (stronger case)
 - allow readers to trace your line of reasoning

+ Create and manage citations

- Use the MLA, APA, Chicago and other style guides from the library Website to format and check your citations (in text and works cited) for any media type
- Citations for books, audio/video and articles are located to the right of each record view for a selected resource.
