History

Emanuel Haldeman-Julius (1888-1951) moved to Girard, Kansas in 1915 to begin writing for Appeal to Reason, a leading socialist newspaper in pre World War I America . In 1919 he purchased a partnership with Louis Kopelin in the newspaper and its printing facility with money borrowed from his wife Marcet Haldeman. He began issuing the Big Blue Books in 1925. They were 5 ½” x 8 ½” high and generally 30,000 words in 64 pages. Customers could order titles from mail order catalogs or visit one of the outlet stores in Cincinnati, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Venice, Colorado The Los Angeles store opened in 1924 in the downtown Mercantile Arcade Building (recently converted to loft apartments). These larger format versions cost from 25 cents to $1.00 each.

Provenance

The Haldeman-Julius Company printed these larger format books in Giraud, Kansas. The titles in this collection were assembled from two major gifts from retired University Library Dean Norman Tanis in the 1970s and Mr. Jack Botwin , a former salesman for Haldeman-Julius publications, in 1990.

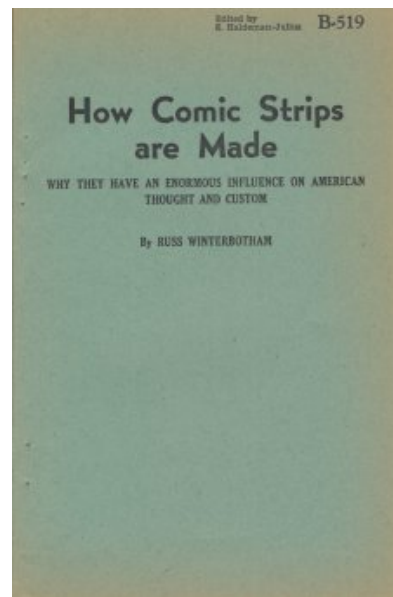

Scope and Contents notes

The Big Blue Books and larger books are part of the Library’s Emanuel Haldeman-Julius Collection of publications that include Little Blue Books, books from Mr. Haldeman-Julius’ personal library, printing plates, and canceled business checks.

Organization

The publications are organized into two parts. Part I lists the numbered and unnumbered individual titles. Part II lists publisher’s series and sets. Some have a B number and a series number, such as Joseph McCabe’s History of Human Morals.

Haldeman-Julius occasionally reissued earlier B numbered titles without a number or assigned a new B number (e.g. B-471 was originally numbered B-26). When the earlier B number could be determined it is recorded in brackets as “originally issued as” or “reissued as....” In some cases duplicate titles are included that display physical differences such as different color covers or numbering distinctions. Where the number suddenly jumps to 5000, the size also increases to over 9”. Advertisements refer to these as the “larger books”. Two exceptions are B-5004 and B-5500 which are the same size as the other Big Blue Books.

There are two other finding guides for the Little Blue books and Publishing Records. Books are grouped in the online catalog under the Emanuel Haldeman-Julius Book Collection.

Description

PART I. Numbered and Unnumbered Titles.

Series I: Unnumbered Titles

The unnumbered titles have no B or catalog number nor are part of a publisher’s series. They are included here because their size and printing format conforms to the numbered Big Blue Books. These are arranged alphabetically by author and cover a variety of subjects.

Series II. Numbered Titles

The numbered titles include the B series numbers (called Big Blue Books in Haldeman-Julius advertisements), numbered titles found in our copy of the publisher’s Big Blue Books Catalog (61 pages, no date), or confirmed against the finding guide for the Haldeman-Julius Publications, Mid-Sized Books, 1905-1951 prepared by Dyani Scheuerman at Kent State University Library’s Department of Special Collections and Archives. Numbers from these last two sources are bracketed. A variety of subjects are covered with many contributions by Carl Willard Smith about individual states, Joseph McCabe on notable persons, Paul Eldridge stories, Robert G. Ingersoll essays on religion, Upton Sinclair on social issues, A.F. Niemoeller and D.O. Cauldwell on human sexuality, and Hereward Carrington on psychology.

PART II. Publisher’s Series.

Series III: The ABC Library of Living Knowledge

Joseph McCabe (1867-1955), a former Franciscan monk and outspoken English rationalist, authored all the titles in this series. They cover astronomy, fascism, Nazism, the Spanish Civil War, imperial Japan, American politics, health, economics, and anthropology. There were 19 titles published.

Series IV: Appeal to Reason Library

Joseph McCabe wrote this collection of articles on Catholicism and contemporary world politics. This is 5 volumes.

Series V: Black International

Joseph McCabe wrote all 19 tracts issued in 1941 to 1942. The series links fascism and the Catholic Church.

Series VI: Book of Life

Haldeman-Julius published many of Upton Sinclair's works. He issued the longer ones in the Big Blue Book format. This is a 4 volume set.

Series VII: Digest

These are condensed versions of works by Charles Dickens, Daniel Defoe, Richard Wagner, Sir Thomas Moore, and other well known authors, many with new introductions by Miriam Allen deFord. There are 36 volumes.

Series VIII: The Freethinker's Library

Joseph McCabe wrote the ten 15,000 word essays on rationalism, God, and religion that comprise this series. Single copies cost 50 cents or $1.00 for the whole set (advertisement, Reviewer's Library, 5).

Series IX: History of Human Morals

Joseph McCabe wrote these essays on morality from ancient to modern times in European, Middle Eastern, and Asian civilizations

Series X: Key to Culture.

Joseph McCabe wrote all 40 numbers in this encyclopedic series on science, literature, education, philosophy, psychology, and art and architecture started in 1929.

Series XI: Key to Evolution

Maynard Shipley, co-founder with his wife Miriam Allen deFord of the Science League of America during the anti-evolution movement of the 1920s, wrote this set of 4 double volumes.

Series XII: The Key to Love and Sex

Joseph McCabe writes on the philosophy and history of sex, and sexual morals in American and European civilization. Advertisements promoted this as providing all the facts about love and sex vital for human happiness.

Series XIII: Notes and Comments

Emanuel Haldeman-Julius reflects on a variety of subjects such as religion, sex, politics, and famous persons. He issued 10 numbers in this series which began in 1950. It was issued in both cloth and paper bindings.

Series XIV: One Hundred Men Who Moved the World

These are character sketches about individuals who the author considers the greatest creative forces in history. There were 17 titles mostly written by Joseph McCabe published.

Series XV: Questions and Answers

The advertisement in Reviewer's Library, 5 for the first issues says these are Emanuel Haldeman-Julius responses to questions asked by readers of his publication The American Freeman. Future issues followed the same format. The series aimed to help the reader solve difficult problems in government, science, and economics. He printed 5,500 copies of each number and advertised them for $1.00 per issue. According to Haldeman-Julius this series never sold well and he gave it away as a premium to subscribers of The American Freeman. No B numbers are assigned.

Series XVI: Reviewer's Library

Most of the numbers in this series are written by Isaac Goldbert and Marcet Haldeman-Julius. They are short biographies of notable contemporaries such as Jane Addams, George Gershwin, and Mussolini.

Series XVII: The Story of the Human Race

This 5 volume series contains biographies of historical persons. The subtitle is "The Biographical History of the World".

Series XVIII: Views & Reviews

Only two numbers were apparently issued. They consist of opinions, criticisms, comments, character sketches, jokes and wisecracks.

Series XIX: Wisdom of Life

The Big Blue Books catalog lists 12 titles in this series. There are only three in the collection with this series name or number system. Other titles in this collection that seem to be part of this series lack the series name anywhere. These titles can be identified by the word "wisdom" in the title. (e.g. Wisdom of Karl Marx).
