

Copyright Advance: Evolving Perspectives for Empowered Scholars Tentative Schedule

Morning

8:30 - 9:00 Registration and Refreshments

9:00 - 9:10 Welcome by Mark Stover, Dean, Oviatt Library

9:10 - 10:30 Kevin Smith, M.L.S., J.D., Scholarly Communications Officer at Duke University

<http://blogs.library.duke.edu/scholcomm/>

Kevin will discuss the growing trend of open access and open journal publishing in academia. He will focus on the actions that faculty might consider taking after the development of a campus open access mandate, including self-archiving, negotiating copyrights with publishers and much more.

10:30 - 10:40 Break

10:40 - 12:00

Peter Jaszi, J.D., Professor of Law at American College of Law

<http://www.wcl.american.edu/faculty/jaszi/>

David Hansen, J.D., Reference Librarian at UNC School of Law and Digital Library Fellow at Berkeley School of Law

<http://www.law.unc.edu/directory/hansendavidr/>

Peter and David will discuss the Code of Best Practices for Fair Use of Orphan Works in Libraries, Archives and other Memory Institutions, development of which currently is being facilitated by the Berkeley Digital Library Project and the Washington College of Law Program on Information Justice and Intellectual Property. They will focus on issues related to mass-digitization initiatives, fair use, and the scholarly use of copyrighted materials, and how they impact universities, libraries and faculty.

Afternoon

12:00 - 1:00 Networking Lunch

1:00 - 1:35 Martin Brennan, M.L.S., Copyright and Licensing Librarian, UCLA Young Research Library

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/martinjbrennan>

Martin will discuss recent Copyright Court Decisions relevant to Libraries and Higher Education. In the past year or two, several copyright disputes with implications for libraries and higher education have been ruled upon or resolved at the district court level, including the Google Books case, the related HathiTrust case, the Georgia State case, and the UCLA streaming case. Martin will review each of these cases briefly and examine what impact the outcomes have for libraries and universities, and highlight what to watch for as several of them go through the appeal process.

1:35 - 2:10 Tracey Mayfield, M.L.I.S., Associate Dean, CSU Long Beach University Library.

Tracy will discuss the copyright awareness and education campaign that is currently catching fire within the CSU. She will address the unique environment of the CSU and the path CSULB is forging to set the benchmark for the rest of the system.

2:10 - 2:20 Break

2:20 - 3:20 Panel Discussion

The presenters will be joined by Stuart Pardau, J.D.

Professor of Business Law at CSUN <http://www.csun.edu/blaw/stuart-pardau>

3:20 - 3:30 Wrap-up and Evaluations
